BEAVER DAM SPRINGS. - This popular resort has passed into the hands of Messrs. Easley & Co., but still remains under the supervision of Mrs. JANE E. KELLER, the widow of the late Dr. Keller, as we announced some weeks ago. The reputation of these Springs is established. The sources of pleasure and amusement which they and their neighborhood afford, in the way of hunting, fishing, &c., are not surpassed by any locality in the State. For particulars see advertisement.

Female Academy-Annual Exhibition. The annual exhibition of the Nashville Female Academy commences on Monday next, and will continue three days. The new Chapel has been so far completed as to allow of its use for the exercises on this interesting occasion. There will, therefore, be ample room for the accommodation of visitors. Mr. ELLIOTT will be highly gratified to have the attendance daily of all who feel an interest in the subject of education, and the progress of our institutions of learning.

Our late confrere, Tom GLENN, has returned from a brief trip to the "old folks at home" in Michigan. He reports fine prospects for bountiful crops of wheat and fruits in the North-western States, the cold winter and spring having done no damage.

THEATRE. - Miss Mucarthy takes her farewell benefit at the Theatre to-night. She presents one of her very best bills; A day in Paris, Jenny Lind, and Bob Nettles. She was unwell during the early part of the week, but is now at herself again, and we are confident, the entertainment of this evening, will be the most interesting one of her engagement. Go, one and all, that the fair beneficiary, may go bence, with a substantial testimony of the generosity and gallantry of the people of Nashville.

ONE OF THE SHOWS .- Col. Wood opened his cabi net of curiosities last night in the Hall above Beech's store, on Coilege street. Its contents are of the JOHN C. SCHOOLEY & CO., rarest kind-consisting of a woman whose face is adorned with a taking pair of whiskers, and her child, a little boy of a few summer's, whom fortune has similarly blest; a female giant, whose tremendous frame towers like a mountain smidst the masses of her fellow species, a female dwarf, without any of the repulsive features of stunted nature; and a young man whose warbling rivals the birds of | To Architects, Bankers, Contractors and the grove. Such eights as these are seldom to be seen, and when seen, one can scarcely realize the correctness of his sense of sight. Of course the lovers of the marvellous will all avail themselves of Jail Cells and Doors. this opportunity to gratify themselves.

The fine low water boat Ella is being thoroughly repaired, and is now receiving a beautiful coat of white and varnish, from the hands of Capt. Horn. She will be ready for service in about eight days, and leave for St. Louis. Our ever attentive friend, R. W. BELL, familiarly known in Paducah as the "chronometer of the Cumberland," will be found in the office.

FOR KEOKUK AND CHICAGO. - The fine passenger steamer Sallie West, now lying at the wharf, having abandoned her trip to St. Louis, will leave this morning at 9 o'clock for Paducah, for the purpose of going on the ways, during which time she will be repainted and thoroughly rejuvenated throughout. Passengers for Keokuk and Chicago will connect at Paducah with the Louisville and St. Louis Packets, thence connect at Cairo with the Illinois Central Railroad for Chicago or St. Louis direct. Passengers for Keokuk will connect at St. Louis with the daily line of boats for the upper Mississippi. Commodore DOYLE, the efficient clerk of the Sallie, will take pleasure in furthering the interest of all who may apply for rooms. The attentive and polite Cornerr will be prompt at his post on the deck. Passengers for "Bettstown" will receive through tickets on application at the office. Get aboard early, as she will take no

The Horse.

Mr. Herbert (Frank Forrester) has been engaged for the past two years in preparing a complete work on this noblest of the domestic animals, in which he is presumed to have united the results of a very large observation in the sporting world with literary accomplishments such as have never before been employed in the treatment of that subject. He will give the origin and natural history of the horse, descriptions of the varieties of breeds, modes of treating both in health and disease, and, in general, everything of importance relating to their uses and management. It will make two superb imperial octavo volumes of 1,100 pages, and will be printed on linen paper, and illustrated in the style of the "Republican Court," by Darley, and other artists of equal eminence. Stringer & Townsend are the publishers.-N. Y. Post, 28th May.

Crooker's Millinery Establishment.

We doubt whether the fair dames and belles of Nashville have ever experienced so much difficulty in the selection of a bonnet, as this season, at this establishment. The cause is not to be found in the increased fastidiousness or captiousness of their tastes, nor in the paucity of the stock or inelegance of the styles. No; we must look for it in some other quarter. Their fancies, to tell the truth, have been bewildered by the great variety and beauty of the assortment to choose from. They experience such sensations while beholding it, as one feels in a rich conservatory surrounded by the rarest exotics, andlaved in their delicious perfumes. They have such emotions as led the poet to wish that the lips of all womankind, especially the beauties, were condensed into one pretty pouting pair that he Paright, in kissing them, kiss the whole race. Where there is so much elegance, so great a variety, a choice must be difficult. The thing's natural; and SILKS, GRENEDINES, the dear creatures are not to blame. But not of bonpets alone does Crooker's congress consist, Nearly all descriptions of millinery goods are represented there-from the lightest and most etherial to the heavier fabrics which art produces to adorn the oveliest of nature's handiworks. a 15 tf a meeting of "spiritunlists," an invalid was brought forward dreadfully offlicted with ulcerous scrotula that all the doctors had failed to cure. Unickering and Sons' Piano Fortes. AT THE EIGHTH EXHIBITION OF THE

MASSACHUSETTS CHARITABLE MECHANIC ASSOCIATION in 1856, Report of the Judges,

J. C. D. PARKET. LEVI P. HOMER, WM. REED, GEO. M. WARREN, The following instruments were offered for examination, in competition for awards :-Forty-eight Piano Fortes, subdivided as follows: Nineteen Grands.

Two Parior Grands, In the department of Plane Fortes, the committee, uniting into one class, as is obviously correct, the Grands, Semi Grands and Parlor Grands, recommend the following awards:

Chickering & Sons, for the two best fquare Piano Fortes, of Seven Octavo each, the first Silver Medal. The committee, in coming to a decision open the merits of the several instruments of which they have just determined their award, were of entire unanimity. They did not hesitate for a moment in deciding that the Grand Plano Fortes from the justly celebrated house of the Messrs, Chickering & Sons, were not only altogether manifestly superior to all competitors at the present Exhibition, but were an equally manifest, and greatly advanced improvement over the wellcommended produc i n of the same establishment off-red at anterior Exhibitions. And the committee not only feel it to be a pleasure, but an obvious duty, to congratulate the present heads of this long established house, that they hav so well sustained its high repute. The memory of the good name, and of the good deeds, and of the great skill of its found-r, shall long be cherithed; and it is a matter of equal satisfaction and price that the garment of praise he has so fairly won and wore, has fallen upon shoulders worth, to receive and able to honor it.

The Semi-Grands of Chickering & Sons, and a Parlor-Grand by the same firm, were superb instrument; and this last had the saveral varieties of Grands, Semi-Grands, and Parlor-Grands been kept distinct in class, would have been entitled, a highest award, both for its own in rinsic merit, and as a new and meritorious invention. But all these were united into one class, and the award was made accordingly. The Parlor-Grand, first emanated from the house of Chickering & Sons, and made its appearance at the exhibition of 18°3, and the committee of that year awarded to it a Gold Medal; but inasmuch as the late lamented head of the firm was a member of the then Government of the Society, the award could not be confir ed consistently with the laws of the Association. It would afford the committee great satisfaction could this award be now confirmed. That the judgment of the committee may be distinctly understood, they now repeat their a wards on the class of in first the Judgment of the committee may be districtly didderstood, they now repeat their a wards in the class of in-struments under discussion. They put the several varieties into one class, and they award to Chickering & Sons the first premium, to cover the three varieties offered by them—Gold Madal.

It is not necessary to discuss the merits of the other Square Piano Fortes in detail. Those to which awards have been assigned are placed in the order of their merit, as adjudged by the committee, and those of which special mention is not made are passed by as not coming up to a just standard of excellence. Twenty-Eighth Annual Fair of the American Institute, New York, 1856.
